XXIX Niitvälja Karikas

July 2-4, 2021

Times of starting and groups:

On the first day of the competition players tee off in flights of three in the following order: senior ladies, ladies, senior men and men. All players qualify for the second round and the players tee off in the opposite order in the competition groups.

Cut:

On the third day 3/5 of the top players in each competition group (+ tied results) will tee off, starting from the highest total scratch score. On the final day, the groups of three will be assembled using the player`s 36 holes aggregate scores where the low scores start later.

Decision of ties:

In the event that the first place is dividend by two or more players, the winner shall be decided in a sudden-death format play-off immediately after the competition on holes decided by the committee. Winner will be the player with the lowest score after the play-off hole. If the lowest score is achived by two or more players, then the play-off will continue on the holes decided by the committee until the winner is identified. If two or more players will drop out with the same score, then their rankings will be determined by the result of the stroke play on the course last 36, 18, 9, 6, 3 and 1 holes. If there is still a tie, then the better score is decided by lot.

If the rest of the medals (except for the first place) and Mementos remain dividend by two or more competitors, then their rankings will be explained by the best course last 36, 18, 9, 6, 3 and 1 holes. If there is still a tie, then the better score is decided by lot.

In the case of a tie result of places outside the medals, the players will receive a shared place in the protocol.

Award ceremony:

The prizes will be given out to the best players and runner-ups of each class. In addition, the best amateur man and the best mid-amateur man (at least 25 years old on the first day of the competition) will be awarded. The name of the best professional player, amateur man and woman will be engraved on the oldest golf cup in Estonia.

The prize money for professional golfers is 4000 €. (Winner 2500 €, 2nd 1000 € and 3rd 500 €).

Cancellation of participation after the competition registration deadline (June 28th, 2021 at 12:00) entry fee is not refunded.
